INTEREST CENTERS IN DEMOCRATIC GATHERING

Keystoners Greatly Interested in Outcome of Session

ACHESON'S INFLUENCE

Trouble-Maker of Republican Party on the Job With Schemes

Much interest is manifested in the gathering of the Democratic clans at Washington today, where the feasibility of a fusion with the Keystone element is likely to be considered. The meeting of the county committee was called for 10 o'clock at the court house, and it is quite probable that contending factions in the Republican party will attempt to exercise a controlling influence.

Chief among the Keystone element wil be E. F. Acheson and his coherts. Since his defeat for the re-nomination for Congress by J. K. Tener of Charleroi, Mr. Acheson jumped the traces of the party that for 14 years kept him in Congress, and has allied himself with the Keystone elements which last year was so active in an attempt to defeat Govenrnor John K. Tener. Mr. Acheson as he himself has frequently expressed it, has constituted himself the "official trouble maker" for the Republican party in Washington county, and in this capacity has developed rare ability. His influence will no doubt be felt at the Democratic convention today in the effort to, probably to have the committee lie low and not commit itself fully—at least so far as expediency later on is concerned.

On the other hand the Republican diplomats will no doubt exercise every effort to prevent fusion It is stated that Mr. Acheson will not make much of an effort to control matters at the primaries as he is quoted as saying he would like to see some of the most active Republican candidates nominated, particularly those who desire to succeed themselves, as he feels confident that these can be defeated on their record in the fall by a coalition of Democrats and Keystoners. What the Democratic party will do, however, is uncertain.

Those who have kept tab on the trend of political affairs in the county state that the issue at the primaries is more uncertain than ever, so far as the Republican candidates are concerned. The large number of candidates for each office adds still further to the uncertainty, and while a large vote is expected the observant ones say the Republican vote will be smaller than usual, owing to the large defections last year to the Keystone party. Consequently it will not require so many votes for the successful ones to win.

As the largest defections from the Republican party were from the western part of the county which embraces the farming section, all eyes are turned toward the river district, which is expected to furnish the backbone of the Republican strength.

Two Hundred Men Put to Work on Crucible Coal's Opening

NEW HOUSES TO BE BUILT

Work was commenced yesterday on the new coal shafts for the Crucible Coal company, near Rices Landing. Frank J. Foye, of Brownsville has the contract for sinking the shafts and is expected to have them done early in November.

There were over 200 men put to work a great many of them who will build the new houses for the company on the top of the hill. Sixty-four houses of the most modern type are to be built and will have all the modern conveniences, including electric lights and hot and cold water A long road has been graded from the river bank to the top of the hill for the purpise of hauling the necessary material to be used in the construction of the houses and the new company store, which will also be erected in the center of the new town.

A steam ferry is now being installed for the purpose of transferring the material from the opposite side of the river, along the Monongahela railroad. One day last week 147 teams were brought across the river in flats and these teams are now being used in the construction of the new road over the hillside to the new town. A great deal of material, such as engines, and boilers are now on the opposite side of the river waiting for the completion of the steam ferry at which time they will be brought across for use at the new

PURE FOOD VIOLATION IN SALE OF ICE CREAM

Special Agent John Jenkins of Dairy and Food Division Brings Two Offenders Before Justice Bar

Upon charges of pure food law violations preferred by Special Agent John Jenkins of the State Dairy and Food Division Patrick McCue, a Coal Centre confectioner and Tony Papa a local Italian ice cream dealer, this morning entreed no defense pleas before Justice of the Peace Joseph Wheeler and were each fined $:5 and costs.

Both McCue and Papa were arraigned on the same charges. It was alleged that ice cream sold by them did not contain the proper amount of butter fat. Papa is the Italian who has been selling penny ice cream cakes on the streets of Charleroi. He says that he was ignorant of the fact that the ice cream sold by him was not up to standard and stated that he would quit selling it altogether.. McCue also plead ignorance of the fact that his ice cream was not wholesome.

TRUE BILLS FOUND IN HOMICIDE CASES

Three of Six Before Grand Jury This Term Heard--One for Man Charged With Crime 14 Years Ago

Four of the six homicide cases before the grand jury at Washington were heard yesterday and true bills returned in each The first case up was that of Abe Martin, colored, who shot and killed Edward Mull, also colored, at a picnic near McGovern 14 years ago. Martin quarreled with his wife at the picnic and began beating her. Mull interfered and protected the woman from abuse, and after he had walked away Martin approached him and fired two bullets into his body. Martin fled the country and was lately apprehended at McKeesport.

Cirole Chirelli was indicted for the killing of his cousin Mike Calderilli at Avella last June. The two men quarreled and went into a patch of woods together. Two shots were heard and Calderelli was found fatally wounded.

Paula Adan and Alex Heida were also indicted for the killing of William Ambrush at Daisytown last June. The homicide resulted from a quarrel over the division of some whiskey.

Martin Potasco was indicted for the killing of Torno Pernac at Weaver, a mining town near Bentleyville last June. A riot followed a beer carnival and Pernac was stabbed to death. Thomas Gardick and Joe Reddy were also indicted as accessories.

AUTO CLUB FILES ELECTION ACCOUNT

To be on Safe Side Monongahela Organization Accounts Money Spent

ON BOND ISSUE QUESTION

An unusual expense acocunt was filed at Washington in connection with the recent bond election held at Monongahela. The Monongahela Automobile club, by its president, James S. Pates, filed a certified statement that the expenses in the bond election did not exceed $50.

The bond issue was for street improvements and the erection of a municipal building. It was for $85,000 and of the amount $65,000 was to be for street improvement. The election carried . It is to be presumed the automobile club was interested in the street improvements and on that acount was particularly active in getting out voters. On account of this interest taken the club evidently thought that, to be on the legal side, as provided under the law, it should file an expense account. It is the first paper of its kind filed since candidates' expenses were required to be filed.

PAVING WORK FINISHED ON BOROUGH STREETS

Seventh and Eighth Are Bricked at Cost of $2,800

ONLY PAVING THIS YEAR

Entire Street Improvment Consists of the Two Pieces of Work

Today will witness the completion of the paving work on Seventh and Eighth streets. Contractor Thomas Arrigo this week finished the brick laying on both streets, and today sand is being scattered. It has required about a month to finish the work, which was the most important done thus far under the supervision of Borough Enginees Paul G. Elder.

The paving of Seventh and Eighth streets between Fallowfield and Washington avenues, is the only paving to be done in the borough thus far this year. It will probably be the only work of the kind during the entire 12 months period

Seventh and Eighth streets present a much improved appearance with the brick laid, and the money is well spent. The cost of paving amounts in the agregate for both streets to about $2,800.

What plans the new council to go in office the first of the year will follow in making improvements is a question, but there is a likelihood of some paving being done.

GAMES ARE CLOSED UP

Detectives Swoop Down on Alleged Gamblers at Belle Vernon

FOLD TENTS; STEAL AWAY

Sheriff J. A. Johns and County Detective Frank McLaughlin swooped down on the gambling devices at the Belle Vernon race track Thursday afternoon about 1:30 and stopped that amusement in which many persons had participated to their sorrow. The different places well supplied with "cappers" and other necessary attendants, were doing a rushing business when the officers appeared and informed them that their land-office business was at an end.

Many of the "get rich quick gentlemen it is said, offered objections until they were red in the face and when that failed they used persuasion with a touch of the long green. The gamblers called a meeting and it is stated it was agreed to offer the officers $100 for each of the stands. They met with a flat refusal and they at once left for parts unknown not attempting to open their games again.

Many persons had been fleeced by the games it is claimed and the men managing the paddle wheels, etc., had made preparations to do a great business today. One man had gone to the bank a short time before the arrival of the officers and secured $700 in silver dollars on which to run his game during the day.

No arrests were made by Sheriff Johns and County Detective McLaughlin who acted on instructions from District Attorney Davis W. Henderson, of Fayette County.

LOCAL SLATES

It is rumored that various slates for candidates for local offices to be voted on at the primary election are in the process of formation. Some of these are said to be backed by different bodies of citizens in the interests of the two leading political parties, while others are said to be promoted by some of the fraternal organizations of the town. From the interest that is beginning to be manifested in the selection of borough officers it is more than likely that there will be a full quota of candidates on all the tickets for the voters to make a selection at the primary election.

There is nothing reprehemsible in this preliminary slate making. Indeed, it is to be commended, as it inspires others to do the same, and the more spirited the contest the greater interest will the voters take, and it is this interest that usually results in the full expression of the voters at the polls. What is desired is for the voters to turn out at the suggestion meetings and to place good men in nomination. When that is done the more slates that are in the field the better for all concerned. That will tend to get the vote out, and when all the voters express their preference at the polls the result is in accord with the spirit of American citizenship.

HOMICIDES.

In view of the large number of homicide cases that come before the grand jury this week, the remark is frequently passed that as similar cases have usually escaped with imprisonment, the law is lax The public does not usually discriminate between a murder and a homicide, and naturally concludes that unless the penalty for a first degree murder is imposed for criminal has escaped proper punishment, and justice has miscarried.

As is usual in the case of snap judgment, the public is wrong in its conclusion. An investigation of the county records will reveal the fact that comparatively few of the numerous homicides that occur in the county escape the punishment commensurate with their crime In the most of these homicide cases the killing occures in a free for all fight and there is seldom any premeditation in the various acts of lawlessness committed. The most of the principals in these cases are apprehended, tried and usually convicted of the offense, and a penalty imposed in keeping with the evidence adduced at the trial This, however, does not mitigate the heiniousness of the offense, nor should it detract from the effort on the part of the officials and courts to materially reduce the number of homicides which are too frequent for the proper maintainance of law and order.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Monthly reports kept by the railroads, showing the number of deaths and injuries and the way in which they were met, are full of such items as 'hit while standing on platform;' 'thrown from train in attempting to pass from one car to another;' 'fell in boarding moving train,' etc,' said a prominent official of the Pennsylvania railroad recently "These are some of the most common ways in which people are killed or injured and immunity from such fatalities could be secured with a little care.

"A man stands on the platform chatting and waiting for his train. From time to time he goes to the edge and leans far out to see if it is approaching. Perhaps he steps onto the track to make sure. He does not hear an engine coming from the other direction so engrossed is he in the argument he is pursuing. This seems strange as it is impossible for a locomotive to move noiselessly, but it happens every day somewhere in the country. His carelessness is sure to result in unnecesary expense which ultimately comes out of the pockets of travelers and shippers.

"The danger of crossing the track without looking both ways or going around a stationary train without making sure that another is not coming from behind it, is certainly well known. It sounds almost too elementary to mention and yet there are literally thousands of people run over every year as a result of non-compliance with this simple rule.

"Traversing the right of way hurriedly in front of an oncoming train results in many accidents. A trip on the rail, or a foot caught in a skirt, is all that is necessary to a sacrifice of life and limb. In time the elimination of grade crossings which is going on everywhere will make this impossible but until then there is no reason why people should not refrain from taking such hazards.

"If people would be reasonably cautious they could do much towards lessening the cost of transportation."

That being the case the river candidates, of which there are plenty, will make every effort to get their solid home vote. The announcement this week of Tom Underwood of California for the Republican nomination for sheriff has upset in a measure political calculations, and a new lineup will have to be effected One thing seems certain and that is that the winning candidates must get a large vote in the river district That being the case this community is likely to be the lively battle ground during the next few weeks There is a general feeling that some moves are yet to be made which will still further complicate the issue at the primaries, and many of the candidates who have already anounced are somewhat upon the anxious seat.

Curious Neighbors Foiled.

A wealthy New York society woman has recently become very much interested in city missionary work. In her district is a poor but respectable family named Moriarty, living on the top floor rear of a tenement house in a congested east side street.

Every time she has visited the Moriartys she has been much annoyed by the staring and whispering of the other occupants of the building. The other day she spoke to Mrs. Moriarty about it.

"Your neighbors seem very curious to know who and what I am," she remarked.

"They do so," acquiesced Mrs. Moriarty.

"Do they ask you about it?"

"Indade they do, ma'am."

"And do you tell them?"

"Faith, thin, an' Oi do not. Oi jist soy you're me dressmaker, an' let it go at thot."—Metropolitan Magazine.

Making Meeting Equal.

One day a distinguished notary while breakfasting with a friend at a cafe in Paris indulged in some stinging comments on the public acts of Marshal Marmont. Suddenly another gentleman, dining at another table, arose and approached them, his mustache bristling with anger. "Sir," cried he tragically, "you shall give me satisfaction!" Are you Marshal Marmont?" quickly asked the notary. "I have not that honor," was the indignant reply, "but I am his chief aide-de-camp." "Give me your card then, sir," said the notary, "I will send you my head clerk."

WOMEN MAY AVOID OPERATIONS

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before.

Here is her own statement.

Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement. I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for seven months without much relief and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia

E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. Today I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise my friends who are afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. ORVILLE ROCK, R. R. No. 5, Paw Paw, Michigan.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for women's ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women. Why don't you try it?

The Sense of Smell.

"It is the upper part of the nose that smells," said a perfumer. "The lining there is very sensitive and brown in color, not red, as in the lower nose Men are more sensitive to odors than women. Scientific tests have shown, I believe, that, while many men can detect the smell of prussic acid even when there is only one part of the acid to two million parts of water the average woman fails to detect the smell if there are less than ten parts of the acid. Though the white man is much less sensitive to odors than the savage, a prolonged stay in a part of the world where smells are few puts a very fine edge on the sense of smell Dr. Nansen has declared that when returning from the ice world to Franz Josef Land he knew when he was approaching the assistant he had left there by smelling his scented soap long before he saw him. He could, too, when approaching the hut have given an inventory of the stores there, as he smelled everything it contained separately and distinctly."

Ruled His Servants by Fines.

Sir Richard Newdigate, a seventeenth century Warwickshire squire, whose papers were published some years ago by one of his descendants, ruled his servants by a system of fines. The value at which he rated domestic crimes is shown by such entries in his diary as: "Nan Newton, for breaking a teapot, 2s. 6d.; Richard Knight, for pride and slighting, 2s. 6d.; William Hetherington, for not being ready to go to church three Sundays, 18 pence; Thomas Birdall, for being at Nuneaton from morning till night, 5 shillings; cook, dead drunk, 10 shillings." As his cook's wages were only £8 a year she paid pretty dearly for her lapse from sobriety. Sir Richard had a system of rewards as well as penalties "To my three daughters," he writes, "because they came to prayers, 3 shillings," and "to Tom Cooper, who worked hard after he broke his head, 2s. 6d."

Origin of Foxe's "Book of Martyrs."

Foxe's "Book of Martyrs" was published in March, 1652, as the "Actes and Monuments" of the martyrs, a title borrowed from an earlier book, says the London Chronicle. The famous volume might never have appeared at all but for the association of Foxe with the printer Day of Aldersgate street, in whose business Foxe took an active part On the tombstone of Day in the church of Little Bradley, Suffolk, the partnership is thus immortalized:

He et a Fox to wright how martyrs runne
By death to lyfe; Fox ventured paynes and health
To give them light; Daye spent in print his wealth

Even in those days the alien problem troubled industry, for we find Foxe appealing to Cecil to relax the law and permit his friend Day to engage more than four foreign printers

Iron in Plants.

Iron is the substance which gives the green appearance to foliage. It forms a constituent part of chlorophyll and is the green coloring matter which stains the bodies inside the cells of leaves, called plastids. When the first organized food is being formed in the leaves from water and carbonic acid gas a certain amount of energy is required. This is obtained from the sun's rays, but the work of absorbing it is carried out by the chlorophyll It requires very little iron for the production of all the cholrophyll found in a crop, and nearly all soils contain an abundant supply.

The Human Clock.

The Spanish painter Ribera, Mr. Haldane Macfall recalls in his "History of Painting," worked with such fervor that all count of time was lost to him "He made a living clock to check the passing hours His servant came every hour to the studio to say in a loud and stately voice, 'Another hour has gone, Signor Cavaliere!'"

He Won.

"Before you kiss me, Horace, let me tell you that Fred has given Kitty a diamond ring. You have never given me one."

"Dearest, it is only girls who are not precious in themselves who require the aid of precious stones."

"Oh, you may kiss me twice, Horace."

Pen and Sword.

"Do you believe the pen is mightier than the sword?"

"Of course it is. Who ever had to pay $25,000 damages in a breach of promise case on account of the sword he carried?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Not Really Essential.

Agnes, the tenth child, aged six was a quiet little girl, taking a very serious view of life She was carried to her mother's room to make the acquaintance of the eleventh arrival, a brother Her attention was called to the beauty of this gift from God She looked earnestly at the object of praise trying to see the bright side of the situation, then said "He is very nice but we did not really need him"

Danger in Cosmetic.

Zinc oxide a favorite constituent of face powders and "bloom of beauty" is noted as a frequent cause for facial paralysis A silver coin drawn across the cheek of women who use these chemical face powders will produce a deep, dark line, due to the reaction between the silver in the coin and the zinc oxide contained in the face powder.

The Shutter Is No More.

A writer describes the forenoon Sunday Strand and Fleet Street as "a shuttered desert," and doubtless he is quite satisfied with the phrase. But is it accurate? How many shuttered windows does he think he would see in these thoroughfares on a Sunday or at any other time when the shops are shut? As a matter of fact the shutter has gone from central London, and is rapidly passing even from the suburbs as' what date did the shutter begin to disappear? 'It was a fitting of all shops as late as the '80s. The worst the modern shop shows on Sundays is the blind And most shops present the week-day temptation with a closed door.—London Chronicle.

TRUE BILL FOUND IN NORRIS CASE

Grand Jury Hears Attempted Burglary Case and Indicts Defendant

A true bill was found by the grand jury this morning in the case of George Nelan of Charleroi against Eph Norris, the latter being charged with attempted burglary. It is alleged that during a heavy storm Norris after trying to enter a neighbor's home endeavored to effect an entrance to the dwelling of Nelan on Lookout avenue He was arrested it is stated after a bitter struggle with James Dawson another neighbor

HOW INTERFERENCE PLAY WOULD FIGURE IN BASEBALL GAME

The following, clipped from a Pittsburg newspaper, which is said to be an exact duplicate of the play in which the Episcopals protested the Fourth of July game with the Catholics in the Church League, has been handed the Mail for publication

"One of the prettiest plays in baseball is the stealing of home and yet the rules are so interpreted in the American league that this play can be blocked by an opposing catcher any time it comes up. If, for instance the catcher, seeing the runner coming steps forward and interferes with the batter, the umpire is forced to send the man stealing back to third and send the batter to first on the catcher's interference. In any close game where one run would perhaps decide it any thinking catcher would of course, deliberately interfere with the batter when an effort is being made to steal home and thus perhaps save the game. In the National league the rule is not followed in this way. There the man scores on the interference, and the batter is not sent to first."

In the Church League game on the Fourth the umpire decided contrary to the above interpretation, and the Episcopals protested the game The executive committee, however, sustained the umpire.

HUMPHRIES RECORD IS RECALLED

Charleroi Twirler Now With Cincinnati Pitched Good Game

NO ONE REACHED FIRST

Elmer Steel, the Pittsburg twirler over whose one hit game there is being made such a fuss, has nothing on Bert Humphries, a California lad who is now a pitcher with the Cincinnati National league team. Humphries has a record of a no-hit, no-run, no-nothing game that is shared by possibly no other pitcher in the country.

Humphries, who is a strapping big chap, pitched in the P. O. M. league when that organization was in its' prime and pulled away some mighty fine games. He was considered the best pitcher Charleroi had, and was a rival of Kruger, the wonderful Uniontown slabman, Michaels of Fairmont and other league mound leaders. This was in 1908.

Charleroi's success at winning games that year had not been of the greatest. In fact the number won compared to the number lost had Charleroi safely ensconsed in eighth and last place.

Fairmont came to town for a series of games on May 18. Fairmont was some team then, and it came prepared to take every game played here. In the first struggle they were disappointed. Osborne twirled for Charleroi, and such was his success that not only did he not allow a Fairmont runner to get past first base, but he only granted one measly hit.

Next game Bert Humphries was to go in the box. When time arrived for the game there was a feeling in the air that something was going to happen. When Humphries assumed the mound and began to throw Fairmont players began to look for succor.

The first three men in the first inning were easy outs. So were the next three men in the second, the following three in the third and so on every inning. Nobody got a hit and there wasn't a chance for any Fairmont runer to even get within sight of first base. There were nine full innings played, and the total amount of times at bat for Fairmont was 27. Humphries had 8 strikeouts Only one ball was hit beyond the infield and it was for an easy out. Of course Charleroi had to play errorless ball. Cosgrove on second made a stop and throw that made him famous.

The wonderful record made by young Humphries in the game caused big league scouts to sit up and take notice and the result was that within a few days after his remarkable performance "Deacon" Phillipi, the Pittsburg twirler and scout was up to look him over. Of all days that happened to be Humphries worst and Phillipi went home impresed in a slightly different way from that in which he came and without the services of Humphries. However later the young California lad demonstrated his sterling worth and after twirling for a couple of years was picked up by the Philadelphia Nationals. He was with them a part of last season and the fore part of this when he was included in a trade with Cincinnati. He has not been working regular at the latter place but in the games which he has pitched he has done creditable work and pulled away his share of victories.

Some fast going was seen at the second day of the racing meet at Belle Vernon yesterday and in one instance the track record was broken. The Five Great Races.

In answer to the question, "What are the five great races of mankind?" a Chinese student replied, said Bishop Montgomery at the anniversary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, reports the London Mail, "the hundred yards, the hurdles, the quarter mile, the mile and the three miles." In another paper a Chinese student said that "Out of sight, out of mind," could be explained in two words, "Invisible, insane."

SAYS JUSTICES SHOULD SETTLE TRIVAIL CASES

The grand jury in its third day session Wednesday ignored 12 out of 21 bills that were presented before it. In eleven of the cases where the bills were ignored the costs were placed on the prosecutors.

"Many of the cases that have come up before us at this term of court should have been settled by the justice of the peace," said Loren F. Hopkins, of Centerville, foreman of the grand jury last night.

"I should be in favor in many instances of having the costs of the proceedings placed upon the justices who sent the cases before us, if the law provided for it. As it is we either have to place the costs on the county or the prosecutor."

Mr. Hopkins said that he believed that the grand veniremen would have to return to Washington next week. He said that Wednesday was a very good day and with the rapidity throughout the last of the week in hearing cases that was experienced yesterday the list of cases could almost be completed this week

Love All.

There is no balm to a man's heart like love, not only the love others feel towards him, but that he feels towards others. Be in love with all things, not only with your fellows, but with the whole world, with every creature that walks the earth, with the birds in the air, with the insects in the grass.—H Fielding Hall.

Sherbet at Its Best.

A sherbet made of extract of violets was much esteemed in the east, and Mohammed is reported to have said of it that it surpassed all other extracts. In some part of Europe it is customary to mingle violets, roses, and lime blossoms with preserves to add a flower element to the fruity flavor. In Egypt and Turkey violets are used in making sherbets as mint is employed in juleps in Kentucky.

INTEREST CENTERS IN DEMOCRATIC GATHERING

Keystoners Greatly Interested in Outcome of Session

ACHESON'S INFLUENCE

Trouble-Maker of Republican Party on the Job With Schemes

Much interest is manifested in the gathering of the Democratic clans at Washington today, where the feasibility of a fusion with the Keystone element is likely to be considered. The meeting of the county committee was called for 10 o'clock at the court house, and it is quite probable that contending factions in the Republican party will attempt to exercise a controlling influence.

Chief among the Keystone element wil be E. F. Acheson and his coherts. Since his defeat for the re-nomination for Congress by J. K. Tener of Charleroi, Mr. Acheson jumped the traces of the party that for 14 years kept him in Congress, and has allied himself with the Keystone elements which last year was so active in an attempt to defeat Governor John K. Tener. Mr. Acheson as he himself has frequently expressed it, has constituted himself the "official trouble maker" for the Republican party in Washington county, and in this capacity has developed rare ability. His influence will no doubt be felt at the Democratic convention today in the effort to, probably to have the committee lie low and not commit itself fully—at least so far as expediency later on is concerned.

On the other hand the Republican diplomats will no doubtexercise every effort to prevent fusion It is stated that Mr. Acheson will not make much of an effort to control matters at the primaries as he is quoted as saying he would like to see some of the most active Republican candidates nominated, particularly those who desire to succeed themselves, as he feels confident that these can be defeated on their record in the fall by a coalition of Democrats and Keystoners. What the Democratic party will do, however, is uncertain.

Those who have kept tab on the trend of political affairs in the county state that the issue at the primaries is more uncertain than ever, so far as the Republican candidates are concerned. The large number of candidates for each office adds still further to the uncertainty, and while a large vote is expected the observant ones say the Republican vote will be smaller than usual, owing to the large defections last year to the Keystone party. Consequently it will not require so many votes for the successful ones to win.

As the largest defections from the Republican party were from the western part of the county which embraces the farming section, all eyes are turned toward the river district, which is expected to furnish the backbone of the Republican strength.

Two Hundred Men Put to Work on Crucible Coal's Opening

NEW HOUSES TO BE BUILT

Work was commenced yesterday on the new coal shafts for the Crucible Coal company, near Rices Landing. Frank J. Foye, of Brownsville has the contract for sinking the shafts and is expected to have them done early in November.

There were over 200 men put to work a great many of them who will build the new houses for the company on the top of the hill. Sixty-four houses of the most modern type are to be built and will have all the modern conveniences, including electric lights and hot and cold water A long road has been graded from the river bank to the top of the hill for the purpise of hauling the necessary material to be used in the construction of the houses and the new company store, which will also be erected in the center of the new town.

A steam ferry is now being installed for the purpose of transferring the material from the opposite side of the river, along the Monongahela railroad. One day last week 147 teams were brought across the river in flats and these teams are now being used in the construction of the new road over the hillside to the new town. A great deal of material, such as engines, and boilers are now on the opposite side of the river waiting for the completion of the steam ferry at which time they will be brought across for use at the new

Special Agent John Jenkins of Dairy and Food Division Brings Two Offenders Before Justice Bar

Upon charges of pure food law violations preferred by Special Agent John Jenkins of the State Dairy and Food Division Patrick McCue, a Coal Centre confectioner and Tony Papa a local Italian ice cream dealer, this morning entreed no defense pleas before Justice of the Peace Joseph Wheeler and were each fined $:5 and costs.

Both McCue and Papa were arraigned on the same charges. It was alleged that ice cream sold by them did not contain the proper amount of butter fat. Papa is the Italian who has been selling penny ice cream cakes on the streets of Charleroi. He says that he was ignorant of the fact that the ice cream sold by him was not up to standard and stated that he would quit selling it altogether.. McCue also plead ignorance of the fact that his ice cream was not wholesome.

TRUE BILLS FOUND IN HOMICIDE CASES

Three of Six Before Grand Jury This Term Heard--One for Man Charged With Crime 14 Years Ago

Four of the six homicide cases before the grand jury at Washington were heard yesterday and true bills returned in each The first case up was that of Abe Martin, colored, who shot and killed Edward Mull, also colored, at a picnic near McGovern 14 years ago. Martin quarreled with his wife at the picnic and began beating her. Mull interfered and protected the woman from abuse, and after he had walked away Martin approached him and fired two bullets into his body. Martin fled the country and was lately apprehended at McKeesport.

Cirole Chirelli was indicted for the killing of his cousin Mike Calderilli at Avella last June. The two men quarreled and went into a patch of woods together. Two shots were heard and Calderelli was found fatally wounded.

Paula Adan and Alex Heida were also indicted for the killing of William Ambrush at Daisytown last June. The homicide resulted from a quarrel over the division of some whiskey.

Martin Potasco was indicted for the killing of Torno Pernac at Weaver, a mining town near Bentleyville last June. A riot followed a beer carnival and Pernac was stabbed to death. Thomas Gardick and Joe Reddy were also indicted as accessories.

AUTO CLUB FILES ELECTION ACCOUNT

To be on Safe Side Monongahela Organization Accounts Money Spent

ON BOND ISSUE QUESTION

An unusual expense acocunt was filed at Washington in connection with the recent bond election held at Monongahela. TheMonongahela Automobile club, by its president, James S. Pates, filed a certified statement that the expenses in the bond election did not exceed $50.

The bond issue was for street improvements and the erection of a municipal building. It was for $85,000 and of the amount $65,000 was to be for street improvement. The election carried . It is to be presumed the automobile club was interested in the street improvements and on that acount was particularly active in getting out voters. On account of this interest taken the club evidently thought that, to be on the legal side, as provided under the law, it should file an expense account. It is the first paper of its kind filed since candidates' expenses were required to be filed.

GAMES ARE CLOSED UP

Detectives Swoop Down on Alleged Gamblers at Belle Vernon

FOLD TENTS; STEAL AWAY

Sheriff J. A. Johns and County Detective Frank McLaughlin swooped down on the gambling devices at the Belle Vernon race track Thursday afternoon about 1:30 and stopped that amusement in which many persons had participated to their sorrow. The different places will supplied with "cappers" and other necessary attendants, were doing a rushing business when the officers appeared and informed them that their landoffice business was at an end.

Many of the "get rich quick gentlemen it is said, offered objections until they were red in the face and when that failed they used persuasion with a touch of the long green. The gamblers called a meeting and it is stated it was agreed to offer the officers $100 for each of the stands. They met with a flat refusal and they at once left for parts unknown not attempting to open their games again.

Many persons had been fleeced by the games it is claimed and the men managing the paddle wheels, etc., had made preparations to do a great business today. One man had gone to the bank a short time before the arrival of the officers and secured $700 in silver dollars on which to run his game during the day.

No arrests were made by Sheriff Johns and County Detective McLaughlin who acted on instructions from District Attorney Davis W. Henderson, of Fayette County.

Seventh and Eighth Are Bricked at Cost of $2,800

ONLY PAVING THIS YEAR

Entire Street Improvment Consists of the Two Pieces of Work

Today will witness the completion of the paving work on Seventh and Eighth streets. Contractor Thomas Arrigo this week finished the brick laying on both streets, and today sand is being scattered. It has required about a month to finish the work, which was the most important done thus far under the supervision of Borough Enginees Paul G. Elder.

The paving of Seventh and Eighth streets between Fallowfield and Washington avenues, is the only paving to be done in the borough thus far this year. It will probably be the only work of the kind during the entire 12 months period

Seventh and Eighth streets present a much improved appearance with the brick laid, and the money is well spent. The cost of paving amounts in the agregate for both streets to about $2,800.

What plans the new council to go in office the first of the year will follow in making improvements is a question, but there is a likelihood of some paving being done.

LOCAL SLATES

It is rumored that various slates for candidates for local offices to be voted on at the primary election are in the process of formation. Some of these are said to be backed by different bodies of citizens in the interests of the two leading political parties, while others are said to be promoted by some of the fraternal organizations of the town. From the interest that is beginning to be manifested in the selection of borough officers it is more than likely that there will be a full quota of candidates on all the tickets for the voters to make a selection at the primary election

There is nothing reprehensible in this preliminary slate making. Indeed, it is to be commended, as it inspires others to do the same, and the more spirited the contest the greater interest will the voters take, and it is this interest that usually results in the full expression of the voters at the polls. What is desired is for the voters to turn out at the suggestion meetings and to place good men in nomination. When that is done the more slates that are in the field the better for all concerned That will tend to get the vote out, and when all the voters express their preference at the polls the result is in accord with the spirit of American citizenship.

HOMICIDES

In view of the large number of homicide cases that come before the grand jury this week, the remark is frequently passed that as similar cases have usually escaped with imprisonment, the law is lax The public does not usually discriminate between a murder and a homicide, and naturally concludes that unless the penalty for a first degree murder is imposed for criminal has escaped proper punishment, and justice has miscarried.

As is usual in the case of snap judgment, the public is wrong in its conclusion. An investigation of the county records will reveal the fact that comparatively few of the numerous homicides that occur in the county escape the punishment commensurate with their crime In the most of these homicide cases the killing occures in a free for all fight and there is seldom any premeditation in the various acts of lawlessness committed. The most of the principals in these cases are apprehended, tried and usually convicted of the offense, and a penalty imposed in keeping with the evidence adduced at the trial This, however, does not mitigate the heiniousness of the offense, nor should it detract from the effort on the part of the officials and courts to materially reduce the number of homicides which are too frequent for the proper maintainance of law and order.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Monthly reports kept by the railroads, showing the number of deaths and injuries and the way in which they were met, are full of such items as 'hit while standing on platform;' 'thrown from train in attempting to pass from one car to another;' 'fell in boarding moving train,' etc,' said a prominent official of the Pennsylvania railroad recently "These are some of the most common ways in which people are killed or injured and immunity from such fatalities could be secured with a little care.

"A man stands on the platform chatting and waiting for his train. From time to time he goes to the edge and leans far out to see if it is approaching. Perhaps he steps onto the track to make sure He does not hear an engine coming from the other direction so engrossed is he in the argument he is pursuing. This seems strange as it is impossible for a locomotive to move noiselessly, but it happens every day somewhere in the country. His carelessness is sure to result in unnecesary expense which ultimately comes out of the pockets of travelers and shippers

"The danger of crossing the track without looking both ways or going around a stationary train without making sure that another is not coming from behind it, is certainly well known. It sounds almost too elementary to mention and yet there are literally thousands of people run over every year as a result of non-compliance with this simple rule.

"Traversing the right of way hurriedly in front of an oncoming train results in many accidents. A trip on the rail, or a foot caught in a skirt, is all that is necessary to a sacrifice of life and limb. In time the elimination of grade crossings which is going on everywhere will make this impossible but until then there is no reason why people should not refrain from taking such hazards.

"If people would be reasonably cautious they could do much towards lessening the cost of transportation"

That being the case the river candidates, of which there are plenty, will make every effort to get their solid home vote. The announcement this week of Tom Underwood of California for the Republican nomination for sheriff has upset in a measure political calculations, and a new lineup will have to be effected One thing seems certain and that is that the winning candidates must get a large vote in the river district That being the case this community is likely to be the lively battle ground during the next few weeks There is a general feeling that some moves are yet to be made which will still further complicate the issue at the primaries, and many of the candidates who have already anounced are somewhat upon the anxious seat.

Curious Neighbors Foiled.

A wealthy New York society woman has recently become very much interested in city missionary work In her district is a poor but respectable family named Moriarty, living on the top floor rear of a tenement house in a congested east side street.

Every time she has visited the Moriartys she has been much annoyed by the staring and whispering of the other occupants of the building The other day she spoke to Mrs Moriarty about it.

"Your neighbors seem very curious to know who and what I am," she remarked

"They do so," acquiesced Mrs. Moriarty.

"Do they ask you about it?"

"Indade they do, ma'am."

"And do you tell them?"

"Faith, thin, an' Oi do not. Oi jist soy you're me dressmaker, an' let it go at thot."—Metropolitan Magazine.

Making Meeting Equal.

One day a distinguished notary while breakfasting with a friend at a cafe in Paris indulged in some stinging comments on the public acts of Marshal Marmont. Suddenly another gentleman, dining at another table, arose and approached them, his mustache bristling with anger. "Sir," cried he tragically, "you shall give me satisfaction!" Are you Marshal Marmont?" quickly asked the notary. "I have not that honor," was the indignant reply, "but I am his chief aide-de-camp" "Give me your card then, sir," said the notary, "I will send you my head clerk."

WOMEN MAY AVOID OPERATIONS

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before.

Here is her own statement.

Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement. I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for seven months without much relief and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia

E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. Today I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise my friends who are afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. ORVILLE ROCK, R. R. No. 5, Paw Paw, Michigan.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for women's ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women. Why don't you try it?

The Sense of Smell.

"It is the upper part of the nose that smells," said a perfumer. "The lining there is very sensitive and brown in color, not red, as in the lower nose. Men are more sensitive to odors than women. Scientific tests have shown, I believe, that, while many men can detect the smell of prussic acid gas when there is only one part of the acid to two million parts of water, the average woman fails to detect the smell if there are less than ten parts of the acid. Though the white man is much less sensitive to odors than the savage, a prolonged stay in a part of the world where smells are few puts a very fine edge on the sense of smell. Dr. Nansen has declared that when returning from the ice world to Franz Josef Land he knew when he was approaching the assistant he had left there by smelling his scented soap long before he saw him. He could, too, when approaching the hut have given an inventory of the stores there, as he smelled everything it contained separately and distinctly."

Ruled His Servants by Fines.

Sir Richard Newdigate, a seventeenth century Warwickshire squire, whose papers were published some years ago by one of his descendants, ruled his servants by a system of fines. The value at which he rated domestic crimes is shown by such entries in his diary as: "Nun Newton, for breaking a teapot, 2s. 6d.; Richard Knight, for pride and slighting, 2s. 6d.; William Hetherington, for not being ready to go to church three Sundays, 18 pence; Thomas Birdall, for being at Nuneaton from morning till night, 5 shillings; cook, dead drunk, 10 shillings." As his cook's wages were only £8 a year she paid pretty dearly for her lapse from sobriety. Sir Richard had a system of rewards as well as penalties. "To my three daughters," he writes, "because they came to prayers, 3 shillings," and "to Tom Cooper, who worked hard after he broke his head, 2s. 6d."

Origin of Foxe's "Book of Martyrs."

Foxe's "Book of Martyrs" was published in March, 1652, as the "Actes and Monuments" of the martyrs, a title borrowed from an earlier book, says the London Chronicle. The famous volume might never have appeared at all but for the association of Foxe with the printer Day of Aldersgate street, in whose business Foxe took an active part. On the tombstone of Day in the church of Little Bradley, Suffolk, the partnership is thus immortalized:

He set a Fox to wright how martyrs runne
By death to life; Fox ventured paynes and health
To give them light; Daye spent in print his wealth.

Even in those days the alien problem troubled industry, for we find Foxe appealing to Cecil to relax the law and permit his friend Day to engage more than four foreign printers.

Iron in Plants.

Iron is the substance which gives the green appearance to foliage. It forms a constituent part of chlorophyll and is the green coloring matter which stains the bodies inside the cells of leaves, called plastids. When the first organized food is being formed in the leaves from water and carbonic acid gas a certain amount of energy is required. This is obtained from the sun's rays, but the work of absorbing it is carried out by the chlorophyll. It requires very little iron for the production of all the chlorophyll found in a crop, and nearly all soils contain an abundant supply.

The Human Clock.

The Spanish painter Ribera, Mr. Haldane Macfall recalls in his "History of Painting," worked with such fervor that all count of time was lost to him. "He made a living clock to check the passing hours. His servant came every hour to the studio to say in a loud and stately voice, 'Another hour has gone, Signor Cavaliere!'"

He Won.

"Before you kiss me, Horace, let me tell you that Fred has given Kitty a diamond ring. You have never given me one."

"Dearest, it is only girls who are not precious in themselves who require the aid of precious stones."

"Oh, you may kiss me twice, Horace."

Pen and Sword.

"Do you believe the pen is mightier than the sword?"

"Of course it is. Who ever had to pay $25,000 damages in a breach of promise case on account of the sword he carried?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Rule of Life.

Not Really Essential.

Agnes, the tenth child, aged six, was a quiet little girl, taking a very serious view of life. She was carried to her mother's room to make the acquaintance of the eleventh arrival, a brother. Her attention was called to the beauty of this gift from God. She looked earnestly at the object of praise, trying to see the bright side of the situation, then said, "He is very nice but we did not really need him."

Danger in Cosmetic.

Zinc oxide, a favorite constituent of face powders and "bloom of beauty" is noted as a frequent cause for facial paralysis. A silver coin drawn across the cheek of women who use these chemical face powders will produce a deep, dark line, due to the reaction between the silver in the coin and the zinc oxide contained in the face powder.

"Things are never just right in this world," complained old Si Chestnut to the Sedgwick Pantagraph. "When I was a young man I never could buy a buggy with a seat that was narrow enough. Now that I am an old married man I can't find a buggy with a seat that is wide enough to suit me."

The Shutter Is No More.

A writer describes the forenoon Sunday Strand and Fleet Street as "a shuttered desert," and doubtless he is quite satisfied with the phrase. But is it accurate? How many shuttered windows does he think he would see in these thoroughfares on a Sunday or at any other time when the shops are shut? As a matter of fact the shutter has gone from central London, and is rapidly passing even from the suburbs At what date did the shutter begin to disappear? It was a fitting of all shops as late as the '80s. The worst the modern shop shows on Sundays is the blind And most shops present the week-day temptation with a closed door—London Chronicle

TRUE BILL FOUND IN NORRIS CASE

Grand Jury Hears Attempted Burglary Case and Indicts Defendant

A true bill was found by the grand jury this morning in the case of George Nelan of Charleroi against Eph Norris, the latter being charged with attempted burglary. It is alleged that during a heavy storm Norris after trying to enter a neighbor's home endeavored to effect an entrance to the dwelling of Nelan on Lookout avenue He was arrested it is stated after a bitter struggle with James Dawson another neighbor

HOW INTERFERENCE PLAY WOULD FIGURE IN BASEBALL GAME

The following, clipped from a Pittsburg newspaper, which is said to be an exact duplicate of the play in which the Episcopals protested the Fourth of July game with the Catholics in the Church League, has been handed the Mail for publication

"One of the prettiest plays in baseball is the stealing of home and yet the rules are so interpreted in the American league that this play can be blocked by an opposing catcher any time it comes up. If, for instance the catcher, seeing the runner coming steps forward and interferes with the batter, the umpire is forced to send the man stealing back to third and send the batter to first on the catcher's interference In any close game where one run would perhaps decide it any thinking catcher would of course, deliberately interfere with the batter when an effort is being made to steal home and thus perhaps save the game. In the National league the rule is not followed in this way. There the man scores on the interference, and the batter is not sent to first"

In the Church League game on the Fourth the umpire decided contrary to the above interpretation, and the Episcopals protested the game The executive committee, however, sustained the umpire.

HUMPHRIES RECORD IS RECALLED

Charleroi Twirler Now With Cincinnati Pitched Good Game

NO ONE REACHED FIRST

Elmer Steel, the Pittsburg twirler over whose one hit game there is being made such a fuss has nothing on Bert Humphries, a California lad who is now a pitcher with the Cincinnati National league team. Humphries has a record of a no-hit, no-run, no-nothing game that is shared by possibly no other pitcher in the country

Humphries, who is a strapping big chap, pitched in the P. O. M. league when that organization was in its prime and pulled away some mighty fine games. He was considered the best pitcher Charleroi had, and was a rival of Kruger, the wonderful Uniontown slabman, Michaels of Fairmont and other league mound leaders. This was in 1908.

Charleroi's success at winning games that year had not been of the greatest. In fact the number won compared to the number lost had Charleroi safely ensconsed in eighth and last place.

Fairmont came to town for a series of games on May 18. Fairmont was some team then, and it came prepared to take every game played here. In the first struggle they were disappointed Osborne twirled for Charleroi, and such was his success that not only did he not allow a Fairmont runner to get past first base, but he only granted one measly hit.

Next game Bert Humphries was to go in the box. When time arrived for the game there was a feeling in the air that something was going to happen When Humphries assumed the mound and began to throw Fairmont players began to look for succor.

The first three men in the first inning were easy outs. So were the next three men in the second, the following three in the third and so on every inning. Nobody got a hit and there wasn't a chance for any Fairmont runer to even get within sight of first base There were nine full innings played, and the total amount of times at bat for Fairmont was 27. Humphries had 8 strikeouts Only one ball was hit beyond the infield and it was for an easy out. Of course Charleroi had to play errorless ball Cosgrove on second made a stop and throw that made him famous.

The wonderful record made by young Humphries in the game caused big league scouts to sit up and take notice and the result was that within a few days after his remarkable performance "Deacon" Phillipi, the Pittsburg twirler and scout was up to look him over. Of all days that happened to be Humphries worst and Phillipi went home impresed in a slightly different way from that in which he came and without the services of Humphries. However later the young California lad demonstrated his sterling worth and after twirling for a couple of years was picked up by the Philadelphia Nationals. He was with them a part of last season and the fore part of this when he was included in a trade with Cincinnati He has not been working regular at the latter place but in the games which he has pitched he has done creditable work and pulled away his share of victories.

The Five Great Races.

In answer to the question, "What are the five great races of mankind?" a Chinese student replied, said Bishop Montgomery at the anniversary of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, reports the London Mail, "the hundred yards, the hurdles, the quarter mile, the mile and the three miles." In another paper a Chinese student said that "Out of sight, out of mind," could be explained in two words, "Invisible, insane."

SAYS JUSTICES SHOULD SETTLE TRIVAIL CASES

The grand jury in its third day session Wednesday ignored 12 out of 21 bills that were presented before it. In eleven of the cases where the bills were ignored the costs were placed on the prosecutors.

"Many of the cases that have come up before us at this term of court should have been settled by the justice of the peace," said Loren F. Hopkins, of Centerville, foreman of the grand jury last night.

"I should be in favor in many instances of having the costs of the proceedings placed upon the justices who sent the cases before us, if the law provided for it. As it is we either have to place the costs on the county or the prosecutor."

Mr. Hopkins said that he believed that the grand veniremen would have to return to Washington next week. He said that Wednesday was a very good day and with the rapidity throughout the last of the week in hearing cases that was experienced yesterday the list of cases could almost be completed this week

Love All.

There is no balm to a man's heart like love, not only the love others feel towards him, but that he feels towards others Be in love with all things, not only with your fellows, but with the whole world, with every creature that walks the earth, with the birds in the air, with the insects in the grass—H Fielding Hall.

Sherbet at Its Best.

A sherbet made of extract of violets was much esteemed in the east, and Mohammed is reported to have said of it that it surpassed all other extracts In some part of Europe it is customary to mingle violets, roses, and lime blossoms with preserves to add a flower element to the fruity flavor. In Egypt and Turkey violets are used in making sherbets as mint is employed in juleps in Kentucky.
